PLYMOUTH COUNTY DA CRUZ, CLERK OF COURTS CREEDON ADVISE RESIDENTS OF SUPERIOR COURT CRIMINAL TRIAL SESSION IN PLYMOUTH

PLYMOUTH – Beginning in January, the Plymouth District Court will house a criminal Superior Court trial session and oversee all bail reviews, Plymouth County District Attorney Timothy J. Cruz and Clerk of Courts Robert S. Creedon Jr. have announced.

Starting January 4, 2016, one Superior Court criminal trial session and all bail reviews will be held at the Plymouth County District Court, located at 52 Obery Street in Plymouth. The Plymouth criminal session is in addition to Brockton Superior Court, which will continue to hold one arraignment session and two trial sessions at its 72 Belmont Street location in Brockton.

“Creating a new criminal session in Plymouth makes good sense and will help facilitate access to the Superior Court for people in different parts of the county,” DA Cruz said.

Plymouth County Clerk of Courts Creedon said, “The new criminal session in Plymouth will help us to fully utilize our new Plymouth facility. In addition, it will reduce costs for those police departments that will no longer have to travel to Brockton.”

Anyone with questions can contact the Clerk’s Office at (508) 747-8400.
